

YBSA Monthly Report December 2024

Storage: Very similar to the end of 2023: end of 2024 capacity in the large storage reservoir is less than the previous year.

Snowpack: The snowpack in the Cascades is good with most in the White Pass area. The moisture in the Yakima basin is greater than usual so far this winter.

Drought: 2024 was a year with insufficient water for both instream flow (fish) and out of stream use (agriculture). The next 3 to 4 months will determine the amount of water available for 2025.

YBSA wishes for a large snowpack in 2025 and a PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR!

Go to www.ybsa.org for additional information.